Tazewell County Public Library Branch Sets Up Temporary Location

Along with many other popular books, “Pete the Cat” will soon be walking his shoes down the street to a temporary pop-up library location. The Tazewell branch will temporarily close to prepare for needed repairs; the last day of normal operations is March 31.

The new location, open April 12, will be at 197 Main St., on the first floor of the Tazewell County Administration Building. Hours will be Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday from 11 a.m - 1 p.m. At this pop-up location, patrons may browse a limited selection of new and popular books, return books, request and pick up holds, and access wi-fi.

Other branch locations in Bluefield, Richlands and Pocahontas can receive any items checked out from the Tazewell branch and will continue to offer the full range of library services.

In August 2021, cracks and irregularities were noticed while replacing carpet, and an engineering inspection determined that compaction grouting was needed to stabilize the foundation. The
The building is owned by the County and the Board of Supervisors has contracted with Rembco to perform the work which should begin in May and is estimated to take 60 days. The current library building in Tazewell was built in 1965 on the site of a former school.

Updates can be found on the library’s Facebook page and the website at www.tcplweb.org.
